Housing Fees & Information

Housing & Residential Life fees are combined into one bill for students, but the following fees apply to Housing and Residential Life only. For more information on tuition and other university fees, see the UNLV Office of Cashiering and Student Accounts website.

- The space reservation fee is $125 and is paid when you submit your housing application online. This fee is non-refundable. Please keep in mind that you cannot use financial aid to pay this fee.
- If you need financial aid to pay all or a portion of your housing fees, contact the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office as soon as possible.

Making Payments

- MyUNLV breaks down your total cost into three installment payments. Please note installment payment dates below. You may however pay your bill in full early.
- Students are responsible for paying their fees on time. Students with financial aid awards will not be held liable for late fees, payment demand notices, etc. when those awards disburse after an established payment date.
- Effective July 1, 2010 Housing and Residential Life does not process or accept payments.
- The most convenient way for you to pay your housing fees is online in the same manner that you pay your tuition. Log in to your MyUNLV portal and click on "make a payment." You may also pay by mail or in person with the main UNLV Office of Cashiering and Student Accounts (SSC, 1st floor). Please visit their website, http://cashiering.unlv.edu, for information on their accepted forms of payment.
